

hqa started rapping around 2003, featured in a posse cut by the Malaysian Hip Hop underground kings, The Rebel Scum, whom later recruited him, after being awestruck by the untapped cosmic energy displayed.

The range of his rhyming style is almost slutty - Old School, Rappity Rap, Dipset Swaggy, Hardcore, Real Trap Shit, Damn Son Where'd You Find That?, Squadda, Based, Wavy, and many more spectacular rap classifications. He lays #RARE vocals on a diverse mix of instrumentals influenced by the many stylings of Hip Hop and the movie Clueless, conducted mainly by his primary source of beats - Cassette Depp, along with other creative beat conductors with a Blood In Blood Out mentality.

In 2013, TRS released their debut full-length LP, The Time Has Scum. A song by hqa, Blaxican Perm, was made into a music video, directed by himself and TRS groupmate, Cliq. In February 2014, hqa released his first solo album, Baguvix.
